

Chairman Powell,

I strongly urge you to ensure that the public and Congress have the opportunity to review and comment on any specific changes the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) plans to make to the media ownership rules before they are issued in final form.

This decision will greatly affect the news and information Americans see and hear in the future; therefore, we deserve to be a part of the decision making process. The FCC would do well to provide a detailed description of all proposed changes, their empirical basis, and a meaningful period of time for the public and Congress to review and comment on any changes.

Please help to protect the integrity of the FCC and maintain an open decision making process.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Bishton
